

Name: Pam Garner Moore

Family: daughter, Rilee Grace Moore, 7

Favorite Mary Kay Memory: Sharing the Seminar Stage and trips with my mom in the Top 20

People Would Be Surprised That I: I was an art major and a tomboy and EXTREMELY SHY

My Best Asset: I love words, the impact and influence of them

To Unwind, I: Visit with my mom, hang out with my daughter, Watch movies and read

When I'm Worried, I: Work really hard .

My Favorite City: Maui

Favorite Vacation Destination: Top director trip... with Top director girlfriends!

All-Time Favorite Movie: American President, Steel Magnolias, Sweet Home Alabama

I Am Currently Reading: Success principles and Cure for the Common Life

Best Book I Ever Read: The Bible (message translation for just reading)

My Favorite Meal: Lobster, crab or moms egg salad sandwich

I Usually Order: Soup or appetizers

My Favorite Time of Day: Early in the morning or late in the evening

Hobbies: Decorating my home, traveling, reading

I Collect: My daughter's art

If I Could Sing, I'd Sing Like: Martina McBride

I Am Motivated By: Movies and music.

My Trademark Cliche/Expression: Discipline will give you FREEDOM , and perception is reality

Best Advice I Ever Got: Don't look back unless you plan on going there—pitch the rearview mirror

Advice I'd Give a New Recruit: Don't reinvent the wheel, just do what the book says.

My Mary Kay Role Model Is: My mom, Elite Exec. Sr. director, Ruby Garner and Pamela Shaw, NSD

I Describe Our Company As: A career that makes you better at everything else you are and do

My Mary Kay Seminar Goal Is: MILLION and 300 unit members